Dear Colleagues:

As we prepare for the "crunch time" in our own bargaining, I am reminded that the essential ingredient for success in our endeavors is solidarity. We have, within our membership, achieved an extraordinary level of solidarity. Part of our effort needs to be directed outside of our own organization and into building solidarity with the members of other organizations.

Last year, you were outstanding in your support for the TOTEM members, Teamsters and Providence Hospital nurses who had to go on strike in their efforts for success in collective bargaining. As our bargaining has heated up, we have received repeated messages from members of these groups that they will return the favor should we be on strike this fall.

This spring, we have an opportunity to demonstrate solidarity with the members of the IBEW who work for the Chugach Electric Association. They are asking us to support a single candidate (even though there are two vacancies) who is running for the Chugach Electric Board of Directors. That candidate is Paul Honeman. Paul is an Anchorage police officer with deep roots in our community.

When you receive your Chugach Electric Association ballot, I would ask you to please demonstrate solidarity with the members of the IBEW by casting a "bullet" vote for Paul Honeman for the Board of Directors.

Sincerely,

Rich Kronberg
President, Anchorage Education Association
